The Covid-19 Social Relief of Distress Grant ('Covid-19 SRD grant') is a 'special' grant rolled out for a six month period only, from May 2020. Eligible candidates will receive R350 each month during that limited period. Originally this grant was only open to South African citizens, refugees and permanent residents. On 18th June 2020, following litigation, by the Scalabrini Centre of Cape Town + Norton Rose Fullbright, a court order was issued. This court order meant that people with asylum seeker or 'special permit' status in South Africa would be able to access the Covid-19 SRD grant - subject to certain criteria. This infographic explains more about applying for SRD grant if you are an asylum-seeker or special permit holder.

WHO CAN APPLY FOR THE SRD GRANT?

The following categories of people can apply for the Covid-19 SRD grant, subject to other criteria: South African citizens, refugees, permanent residents - and those with asylum seeker visas or special permits, so long as they were valid at the beginning of the national lockdown (15 March 2020). For more information on the details you will need from your document see the pictures on page 4 and 5 below.
